PRESS RELEASE

The bike that changed everything

After 5 consecutive titles in the World Grand Prix Road Racing Series, Honda decided to withdraw and turn toward its primary target: transfer the technology obtained in competition to develop high-performance consumer machines. After a first attempt with a 450cc, Honda released the CB750 Four in January 1969. The initial production forecast of 1,500 units a year became soon a monthly figure and then jumped to 3,000 units/month. By pushing the boundaries of performance, reliability and easy handling in motorcycles, Honda created a new class of Superbikes. The CB1000R is the modern expression of the same spirit that guides Honda engineers since decades.

DREAMS REALLY DO COME TRUE

Soichiro Honda said,

“There are qualities which lead to success. Courage, perseverance, the ability to dream and to persevere.”

Honda's philosophy in dreaming of a better world for people catalysed the invention of the ASIMO, HondaJet, NSX and the legendary Africa Twin. Dreams can be powerful, they push you to achieve more, to explore new ideas, new technologies and uncover new ways of solving problems. It takes independent thinking and audacity to pursue dreams. It also takes passion and innovation to never allow the dream to die and to shape them into a reality for the modern-day world.
